Vaughn Johnson, Beloit, Wisconsin, holds his champion female at the 1960 Rock County Fair.

The Junior Project Heifers . . .

The next 17 heifers are all part of the Wisconsin Shorthorn Association heifer project. Breeders donated a one-half interest in likely show heifers to interest junior exhibitors.

These juniors are required to fit and show these heifers in at least one county show. Following the show season they were to be sold in the state sale.

The juniors share sale expense with the donors as well as one-half of the sale proceeds. They can buy full possession in these heifers by paying one-half of the final bid price.

Should a junior buy full possession, he will be required to pay an additional $15 sale expense. Should the heifer sell to a new owner, the sale expense will be deducted from the junior's proceeds.

Janet Hooker, Lodi, is shown with her inter-breed reserve grand champion steer at the 1962 Junior Livestock Show at Madison. More and more juniors are winning inter-breed championships with Shorthorn steers and heifers.

SHOW CLASSIFICATION

Shorthorn Bulls Perform Well!

Bob Rutledge, Donahue & Rutledge, Cheyenne, Wyo.,
states his experience with Shorthorns . . .

"We used to run whitefaces until sunburned udders became such a problem that we switched to Angus bulls. We eventually switched to straight Angus and then ran into shy breeding problems . . . a short, uneven calf crop and a drawn out calving period. We then bought four Shorthorn bulls and turned them into our herd with eight Angus bulls. The Shorthorns sired over half that year's crop and we had a better weaning weight. We have since purchased more Shorthorn bulls and find a 50 to 75 lb. advantage in our weaning weight and a one to two cents per pound premium at sale time. We now have 70 per cent of our calves in the first three weeks of calving. The crossbred calves are more vigorous, are never bashful at eating, they have better carcass quality and better rate of gain."
